Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

i am so sick and tired of you guys raising all the damn taxes for people who need the services in question. the people who use these services, and make these companies who they are, (dont forget who pays the bills AND TAXES), are going to get tired of having to pay for their rate increases because of your crap. i will just stop using cell phones. see, this is why i cant stand people who say we live in a free country. thats the biggest load of crap there ever was. there is nothing free, or free from the government sticking there big fat red white and stupid nose into it and screwing it up. these companies make billions of dollars a year and so does the government and personally i am sick of paying for all of your mispending sprees. you raise the rates and add more bull crap, ill drop it all. paying taxes, all of it. someone has to stop you guys. see its no wonder people are taking guns and shooting you guys and blowing up government buildings. you guys suck.

Sincerely,

wayne hearson
